Orlando came to Sullivan County Community Hospital where I was the CEO in the 1990's to be our anesthesiologist. He was a joy to be around. Patients, family members and hospital staff noted his smile and positive approach during their contacts with him. The patients he served were in excellent hands. My deepest sympathies to his family. Hi Carie: Please accept our profound sympathy and condolence at your sudden bereavement. There are no words that can make your sorrow and that of your family at this totally unexpected loss any less. We can only try to find comfort in the knowledge that the good that Orlando did during his lifetime has assured him of a nice place in the bosom of our Lord. And we can only hope and pray to join him in God's special place some day. With all his multifaceted talents and diverse interests in life and being a very good person who is well entrenched in his Faith, Orlando will surely leave a vacuum in many lives. Dear Carie and family, It is with a heavy heart that I am writing this...still in shock in the sudden loss of my dear friend , Orlando. We had plans to meet sometime next year here in the East Coast but it was not meant to be. I will always remember him as a deep thinker and writer, with great love not only for his own family but for the whole Cuasay clan...deeply devoted to God and to his fellowmen. Deepest condolence to Carie and family. May the Lord give you strength and fortitude in this time of bereavement. And may God envelope Orlando in His loving arms and give him peace. I will keep him and the rest of the family in my prayers. Here's a poem that will help ease your pain in this great loss.... HE IS GONE by David Harkins You can shed tears that he is gone, Or you can smile because he lived. You can close your eyes and pray that he will come back, Or you can open your eyes and see all that he has left. Your heart can be empty because you can't see him Or you can be full of the love that you shared. You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday. You can remember him and only that he is gone Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on, You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back, Or you can do what he would want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on. I am sure this is what Orlando would want his family and friends to remember him by. Goodbye, Orlando, you will be missed not only by me but by your classmates of UST Med Class 67. God bless, Rosie Aniceto-Elazegui (Class67 UST Medicine)
